LONDON, Oct. 9.—Great Britain and France are standing on their original war aims—removal of the menace of Nazi aggression and establishment of an 'honorable' German government—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today.

In what was interpreted as at least a preliminary reply to Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's speech to the Reichstag, proposing an armistice now that Poland has been conquered, Chamberlain said:

"The British and French governments are in complete accord as to the purposes for which they entered the war.

"Undoubtedly as time passes, both governments will consider whether their war aims shall be stated in more specific form."

PA NEW OBSERVES

Although yesterday was October 8, midsummer heat conditions prevailed. At one Lawrence county picnic grove, Pa. New noted quite a large group of people enjoying a picnic dinner.

One of the novel sights on Washington street Saturday was a little boy wheeling his dog in a baby carriage. The dog was sitting up on his haunches, and seemed to be enjoying the ride immensely.

Surfacing of the highway from Wilmington Junction through Neshannock Falls, a job that has been in progress for some months, has been completed and the road is open for traffic.

Pa. New has noted lately that the apple butter problem is being solved with the aid of brass kettles and elbow grease. There are a lot of our problems that could be solved by more muscle and less tongue. You can't talk a bushel of apples into a good table spread. It's only when you get out the long handled hook and begin stirring that the apple butter bubbles.

One of Pa. New's untimely friends says he's had a pretty tough time during the past week getting his joints limbered up and his muscles hardened. They get soft and flabby, you know, when you're fishing or sitting around under a shade tree. There's only one way to get a strong muscle, and that's by exercise. Rubbing with liniment or olive oil will help some, but if you want to get it bone hard, keep it wiggling.

Most of us have a favorite flower, just as we have an old song that we love, or a painting that we adore. (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A clarification of neutral America's attitude toward Chancellor Hitler's obvious bid to make President Roosevelt a mediator in Europe's war was anticipated today as the chief executive returned to the White House from Hyde Park.

In line with his promise to keep both Republican and Democratic party members fully advised of government information respecting the international situation, it was believed the President would consult in person or by telephone with congressional leaders during the day.

RESCUE ATTEMPT PROVES FAILURE

Best information was that Mr. Roosevelt would continue his silence on inspired suggestions from Berlin that he propose an armistice in the European war until London and Paris had made their position definitely and finally known. The President was represented as an earnest worker in the cause of peace—his efforts to head off the war were cited by way of illustration—but it was understood he would be reluctant to inject this nation's good offices in a move to end the war unless England and France agreed in advance they were amenable.

Hunt Saboteurs For Damage To U. S. Battleship

Secrecy Surrounds Effort To Identify Those Sought For Damage To Arizona

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9.—Behind a curtain of secrecy, naval intelligence officers and counter espionage agents today pressed their efforts to identify saboteurs said to have damaged the battleship Arizona.

No official statement was forthcoming concerning what occurred on the battleship divisional flagship, which was to put to sea again today for gunnery training at sea. Members of the engineering crew of the 33,000-ton dreadnaught, which mounts 12 14-inch guns and carries a crew of 1,300 were not allowed to go ashore before sailing time to visit their families.

According to well-informed sources at San Pedro, metal scraps were dropped into spring bearings, emery powder was thrown into a main engine bearing, lubricating oil was mixed with water in boiler tankers and 150 gallons of lubricating oil emptied into the bilges from leaking pipes.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced in San Francisco that he was going to Los Angeles with five special agents to take personal charge of the investigation.

Hoover said that until the probe is completed he was not characterizing the damage as the work of saboteurs.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—German troops lined up in the forbidding west wall opposite the Maginot line today began using a trick developed during the Spanish war—employing gigantic loud-speakers at the front lines.

With these mammoth instruments, the Germans are able to hurl verbal bombs at their enemies along with shells from their heavy guns. This morning the loud-speakers barrage opened at various points along the western front with choice selections, passages rebroadcast from Hitler's "peace speech."

Passages which the Germans particularly wanted the French to hear went rumbling over the no man's land in both German and French.

Developments In War Today

(International News Service)

Great Britain and France stand on their original war aims, which embrace the removal of Nazi aggression and establishment of an "honorable" German government, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the house of commons today in his first reply to Adolf Hitler's peace overtures.

Developments:
PARIS.—Warfare was intensified in the Saar sector of the western front as French authorities press their anti-communist campaign. Mammoth German loud-speakers in the Siegfried line rebroadcast passages from Hitler's peace speech across the no man's land to the French.

LONDON.—King George's message to the "British navy, predicting a "long and arduous" task, plans for a British trade agreement with Russia and a scheme to create a war-time British "council of industry" suggested that Britain remains determined to fight against "Hitlerism."

BERLIN.—Germany sought to minimize the war, concentrating on peaceful news. Artillery fire on the western front was termed "weak."

MOSCOW.—Powerful newspaper Izvestia welcomed approval of the Russian partition of Poland and Chancellor Hitler's peace plea. It was announced that Russia will begin supplying raw materials to Germany immediately.

HELSINKI.—Finland agreed to "political and economic negotiations with Moscow, but called Finnish reserves to the colors as a warning to the Soviets to move cautiously.

Sweden Plans To Increase Her Aviation Service

(International News Service)
LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Swedish government has decided to spend $12,000,000 for increased naval aviation equipment, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Stockholm said it was understood today.

Sweden will obtain 102 airplanes—presumably from the United States—and 10 mine sweepers, the dispatch said.

(Editor's note: The military expenses reportedly planned by Sweden apparently are to aid her in maintaining neutrality. Numerous Swedish and other Scandinavian ships have been seized by Germany in recent weeks.)

Neutrality Patrol Of U. S. Is Active—Report Sighted Sub Is Small Craft

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Broadly inferring that they were craft of a belligerent nation, the White House reported today the sighting of a foreign submarine and two "non-American" tankers close by American shores.

The undersea warcraft, with the two tankers in the general vicinity, was seen by the U. S. Navy neutrality patrol 20 miles west of Key West, Fla., according to the White House.

In making the announcement, President Roosevelt's secretary, Stephen T. Early, explained that he could not divulge the nationality of the submarine or tankers because that was military information and would constitute a violation of U. S. neutrality.

Craft Of Warring Powers

This statement was taken as a clear indication that the submarine and the tankers were craft of one of Europe's warring powers. It would be no violation of neutrality to reveal the nationality of ships of countries at peace.

The presence of the two "non-American" tankers in the vicinity of the submarine brought immediate speculation that they may be acting as fueling bases for the warship which was described as "comparatively small in size." There have been countless reports that foreign submarines were fueling in Atlantic and Caribbean waters.

The submarine itself may have been the same sighted on Saturday (Continued On Page Two)

Swiss Report Concentration Of German Troops

(International News Service)

PARIS, Oct. 9.—The Swiss correspondent of the newspaper Le Matin today reported "very large" German troop concentrations along the German bank of the Rhine from Lake Constance to Basel.

The report said all Swiss villages and towns in the area were being evacuated to a depth of about 15 miles.

(Editor's note: If substantiated, this dispatch is highly significant, since it might indicate the Germans are planning to swing around the lower end of the Maginot line in an assault of the "Blitzkrieg" variety against France.

Recent reports from Paris and elsewhere have indicated that the Anglo-French allies have been on the look-out for such a move. Some dispatches said that an attack of this nature was expected on or about Oct. 10.)

HELSINKI, Oct. 9.—Finland yielded today to Soviet pressure for "political and economic" negotiations, but at the same time called her army reserves to duty as a warning to Moscow to move with caution.

The Finnish cabinet accepted the Soviet "invitation" to the Moscow negotiations and appointed Juho K. Paasikivi, former premier and present minister to Sweden, as the Finnish emissary.

The cabinet acted, however, only after a delay of 48 hours, during which the call went out for army reserves. This was interpreted as a warning that Finland will not give the U. S. S. R. naval and air bases and other concessions readily as Latvia and Estonia.

Paasikivi was expected to go to Moscow this week. Finnish circles apparently were depending on him to drive a hard bargain.

Kentucky's Chief Executive To Assume Duties As U. S. Senator

(International News Service)
FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 9.—Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler today resigned as Kentucky's chief executive in order to assume appointment to the U. S. Senate.

His appointment was to be confirmed in a ceremony in the state house of representatives this forenoon. For the space of an hour or more, he technically had no status other than as a private citizen.

His appointment means another vote for President Roosevelt's neutrality program, now being debated in the senate. Chandler indicated in conversations with newspapermen, he declared he favored the president's proposals, including repeal of the present embargo on sale of arms to warring countries.

Chandler's appointment is to fill a vacancy caused by the death last week of Senator M. M. Logan. Upon his resignation, he was automatically succeeded today as governor by Lieut.-Gov. Keen Johnson.

Germany Seeks To Minimize Europe's War Situation Today

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—German government sources admitted reluctantly today that no concrete moves for peace had yet resulted from Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's initiative in his speech to the Reichstag, but hopes were still held out that the current week may bring some satisfactory mediation.

Many individual voices are "crying in the wilderness" for peace, one authoritative spokesman said, and by the time the world has had a full opportunity to digest all the implications of the Fuehrer's speech, some definite move in behalf of an armistice may be forthcoming.

Germany saw Europe and the world divided into three schools of thought. One, headed by Germany, Soviet Russia and some smaller neutral nations, appeared to be all in favor of Hitler's plans.

The second was characterized as "fifty-fifty for peace or war" and the third was labeled as "negative or nebulous" and in this category was placed England and France.

Postpone Sailing Of U. S. Vessel To Get Full Load

No Question Of Convoy For Ship Entailed In Delay, It Is Announced

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The U. S. Maritime Commission reported today that sailing of the Eastern Steamship liner Acadia from Dublin, was being delayed in an effort to fill the ship's passenger list with Americans fleeing from Europe.

The Acadia was taken from the American inter-coastal trade and sent to Dublin for the specific purpose of returning Americans from the war zone, the commission said. Some difficulty has been encountered in obtaining a capacity load of passengers. It was said, and postponement of the sailing date was decided upon to give more Americans an opportunity to take passage.

The commission said there was no question of a naval convoy involved, and pointed out that the Shawnee, another coastal liner, also had reported difficulties in getting a full passenger list of refugee Americans.

Charge "Slow Down" Strike At Plant

Ten Thousand Workmen Are Ordered From Chrysler Plant

(International News Service)
DETROIT, Oct. 9.—Ten thousand workers were ordered from the Chrysler corporation's Dodge plant in Hamtramck today as the corporation charged Friday's "slow down" strike was continued on the first shift today.

A corporation spokesman said: "The men slowed down on production, doing the work on some cars on the assembly line and letting other units pass by without touching them. As a result we had to stop production."

The production strike was a direct result of the corporation refusal to reinstate 32 men discharged after the slow down, Friday.

The strike against production made a bitter backdrop to the scheduled contract negotiations which were to begin today between the corporation and the CIO's auto workers union.

The team was supposed to get licked so they said, they didn't have much of a time, and the backs were no good and the coach was a punk, and this they believed was a sign that the big university team would come through with a score that was heavy and hot, but something has happened the score sheet will show, and the big team went out on the spot. The upsets were plenty all over the sheet, which fact sort of leads me to say, that you cant always tell what a small team will do, its warm, over eighty today.

King Makes Secret Visit To Fleet

Long And Arduous Task Is Predicted

Developments Indicate Britain To Fight To Finish Vs. Hitlerism

BRITISH ARMY IS NOW NEAR MILLION

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Oct. 9.—How much faith Great Britain places in Chancellor Hitler's peace overtures was indicated ironically today by a message from King George VI to the British navy, predicting its task may be "long and arduous."

This was but one of several developments indicating Britain, like France, remains determined to fight to the finish against "Hitlerism."

The king's message was forwarded to the commander-in-chief of the home fleet after the monarch ended a secret 48-hour visit with the warships.

In addition, there were reports of diplomatic moves for a trade arrangement between Britain and the Soviet Union to help offset the Soviet-German raw materials agreement and thus hamper German efforts to break the effect of the Anglo-French blockade.

Authorities also revealed that the British army is now approaching 1,000,000 men—and that this is but part of a major program to whip together an empire army of the gigantic total of 10,000,000 effectives.

NAZI AGGRESSION MENACE MUST GO BEFORE WAR ENDS

He would be glad to hear a full and formal exposition of the war aims of Britain and France, even in the form of counter-proposals to his peace offensive.

Thus far, the British and French governments have announced their war intentions merely as follows:

War Intentions

1.—To pursue hostilities until the "crime" committed against Poland has been avenged, and that country presumably reestablished as an independent nation.

2.—To defer any and all peace negotiations until the present Nazi regime in Germany has been supplanted by a government "whose word can be trusted."

3.—To wage unceasing warfare until the menace of aggression has been removed entirely and national security restored to every country in Europe.

Chamberlain is expected to make a full statement of Anglo-French policy on Wednesday in the course of his weekly war review to the house.

were determined to miss no bet and that they wanted their own men to "inwardly digest" certain passages of the speech along with the French.

Not Only Development
This wrinkle was not the only development along the western front or in the European "war of words" today.

International News Service learned that the artillery and infantry action now in progress on the front is the heaviest this conflict has seen so far.

The Germans, it was revealed, have used more than a full company of troops in each of their last three raids—each of which, according to the French, was repulsed.

Artillery fire now booming at the front can now, for the first time, accurately be described as "counter-battery fire"—artillery duels in which the batteries of opposing sides are seeking to "liquidate" each other.

Heretofore the artillery action, especially Germany's has been sporadic and directed principally against the opposing front lines.

Starting yesterday the blasts from the big guns became more intense, more systematic and more concentrated, the Germans sought out the French batteries as well as the front lines, especially east of the Moselle.

The action, however, does not yet extend beyond the battery zone and it would be an exaggeration to call the activity immediately preparatory for a real offensive as yet. It is still, rather, in the exploratory stage, but the exploration conducted by highly explosive shells is going further afield.

President. It was expected that these and any word received from Ambassadors Kennedy at London and Bullitt at Paris would be passed along by the President to Senate and House leaders.

To Get Embargo Report

In return, particularly from Senate leaders, the President expected a report on latest developments in the battle over arms embargo repeal—which ties into the European situation most definitely. Today, the first test vote was scheduled between administration forces and isolationists over an effort to separate the arms embargo repeal from the cash-and-carry features of the administration neutrality measure.

Advance reports gave the White House confidence this first show of strength would go heavily in favor of consideration of the bill as a whole.

The President spent a quiet weekend at Hyde Park. It was featured only by his attendance at a meeting of Hyde Park church vestrymen to arrange special services commemorating a gift of a Bible by King George and Queen Elizabeth of England, who attended the Roosevelt church on the occasion of their visit to the United States last June.

PA NEW OBSERVES

mire. Pa Newc has a warm spot under his vest for petunias. We like petunias for their variegated colors, but above all for their lasting qualities. They sleep in the cold earth over winter, but begin pushing their little heads through the soil with the first breath of spring. All through the summer they bloom, and far into the fall. Even today they are among the few flowers seen on our lawns and gardens. If ever we own a vine clad cottage we'll line its sylvan walks with petunias, and plant these gracious flowers in our window boxes.

Drumstick gnawing is going to be popular this fall, judging from the holidays in sight. Some states will have two Thanksgiving days, one federal, one state, but so far as Pennsylvania is concerned, it looks as though there will be only one, since Governor James has said that he will go along with President Roosevelt's change to a week earlier than usual. That will give us more time to digest our turkey before Christmas.

The usual church service post-mortem was under way as the family gathered about the Sunday dinner table. Dad criticized the sermon. Mother thought the organist didn't like the choir. But they all shut up when little Junior chipped in with "I wish I hadn't thrown my nickle in the contribution box."

Pa Newc heard a recent candidate at the primary election say that he had gained five pounds, since the election even if he did not get a nomination. So far as he is able to judge he has been eating the same kinds of food and in the same amounts. The significance of this is, that peace, happiness and avoidance of war come with a tranquil mind. Why get thin running for office when you can get fat letting other people run for it.

Since Pa Newc put an item in The News that a little boy is saving tin-foil to get a wooden leg, several bundles of tin-foil have been left at this office. This has been turned over to Mrs. George McKenzie, delinquent tax collector at the court house, who is looking after the little boy's interest. Tin-foil can be left with Mrs. McKenzie any time.

Many friends from New Castle attended the dedicatory services at the Finnish church in Bessemer last night. It was an event of more than ordinary importance, marking as it did, a long cherished desire on the part of the members of the congregation for a better house of worship. Pa Newc joins with local citizens in extending congratulations.

Detours on the Pennsylvania State Highway system are probably fewer at the present time than in many years. The only detour within 50 miles of New Castle is at West Pittsburg where the bridge was washed out last summer. There are only 35 in the entire state, the latest detour bulletin for the period ending October 20 reveals.

Saturday and Sunday were rare autumn days and thousands of motorists were out in the highways taking advantage of the occasion. It was almost as bad as mid-summer according to those who were out traveling on the highways.

Several hundred fans and students of Johnstown high school will come here Saturday afternoon for the New Castle-Johnstown game on a Pennsylvania railroad special train. The train is due to reach New Castle at 12:35 o'clock. The Johnstown colors are blue and black.

That the fishing season is not yet at an end was proven by four local men, Dave "Mac" McConnell, Herman and Frank Steinbrink and Peter Hermann, who paid a visit to Little Conneaut Creek in Erie county Sunday, and returned with a nice 30-inch muskellunge, which weighed five pounds.

Observation Yesterday
The U. S. neutrality patrol said the latest observation of the foreign submarine was made yesterday. The patrol, acting on President Roosevelt's order, is providing Washington with "informational services" on the activities of belligerent warships in American waters.

The White House action in making public its reports from the navy was taken to mean that this government wanted belligerents to know that it was fully informed of war operations off the United States.

On previous occasions, the White House—in one case President Roosevelt himself—has announced the presence of submarines of unknown nationality off American coasts. The president announced that submarines had been sighted off Alaska and New England.

The navy's neutrality patrol has been spread out over the Atlantic along the seaboard and as far as 200 miles at sea to protect American shipping and to report on belligerent activities.

Eight thousand of the Russian troops will go to Hapsala, eight thousand more to Arensburg and Osel Island, four thousand to Baltiskil and one thousand to Dagoe Island. The remainder will take up other strategic positions.

COURT HEARING OPENS ON HISKORY TOWNSHIP BATTLE OVER RECOUNT

question by a total vote of 195 to 113. Upon petition of voters the boxes were brought into court, opened and recounted, the recount showing that the question was decided in the affirmative by three votes.

Suspicion of Fraud
Because some 36 ballots had crossed in both the Yes and No space on the referendum and the district attorney's office presented a petition to set aside the official result. The action today is a civil and not a criminal action. Any criminal action, if taken, would follow the present action in the event it is established that the ballots have been tampered with. The action concerns only the vote in the second precinct, where the appearance of fraud is more pronounced than in the first precinct.

At noon today the appellants, Lamore and Donaldson, had established the fact that in at least five cases the ballots had been changed after the box was closed on primary night. Five witnesses picked out their own ballots, testified they had voted "no" or had neglected to vote at all on the question. They all testified that their ballots had been changed, those voting No finding another cross in the Yes space and those not voting found their ballots marked No.

Takes Precedence
Because of the kind of action it is the case took precedence over all other civil actions listed for this term of court. At the opening of the case Attorney Clark moved to dismiss the petition on several grounds, one being that section 1407 of the election code says "no appeal shall be allowed or granted from any order or decision of the court of common pleas."

The motion was refused. Clark then entered a general objection to all testimony which might be adduced. Donaldson then moved to amend the pleading by objecting to the recount being accepted on the grounds that only the referendum had been recounted and not the official ballot. He explained that this objection was inserted in case the action went to the state supreme court for final adjudication.

Darley Vandivort, member of the official recount board, was called and identified the return sheets of the second precinct. The original count showed 32 Yes votes on the Democratic ballot and 14 on the Republican; 19 No votes on the Democratic ballot and 45 Republican. The recount showed 54 Yes Democratic and 49 Republican and 1 No, Democratic vote, and 33 Republican.

Mabel Gormley, judge of elections, was called and said she had counted the ballots and that Oscar McConahy, minority inspector, had checked them with her as she called off the results. She said several ballots had the numbered corners still on them and that perhaps two or three had crossed in the Yes and No space on the referendum.

Asked if she voted on the referendum she said she did not. She picked her own ballot out of the pile and it was found to be marked Yes.

Mrs. Gormley testified that when she went to get the ballot box from Squire A. M. Kimmel on election morning that his wife was there and gave her the box. For a time the key could not be found, but was finally located on the garage floor. Mrs. Gormley said at the conclusion of the count the box was locked, taped and sealed. She said she heard Squire Kimmel tell Mr. McConahy to keep the box overnight and that he (Kimmel) would get it the next day.

Cut Key Off Box
Oscar McConahy, minority inspector, said he had taken the box home with him on the morning following the election and that Kimmel had not come for it until the second day. When he did get it, McConahy said Kimmel cut the key off the box and gave it to him. McConahy verified Mrs. Gormley's statement that between 50 and 60 ballots were not marked for the referendum.

Lois McConnell, the majority inspector, testified to aiding in tallying the count. Dale Johnson, a voter, testified he had voted the Democratic ticket and had voted "No" on the wet and dry question. He identified his ballot and it was found to have two crosses on it.

Mary H. Kildoo, clerk to the majority inspector, testified she had not voted on the referendum. She identified her own ballot and it was found to be marked "Yes."

Mabel Moser and Mabel Sickafuse testified they had voted "No" on the referendum on the Democratic ballot. They identified their own ballots and they were found to be marked both "Yes" and "No."

M. A. Nernberg, a handwriting expert and examiner of disputed documents, was called and qualified as an expert capable of examining the ballots and rendering an opinion. He said he had examined over a million ballots in his time, had testified in hundreds of cases and that at present he was the expert used by the district attorney's office in Allegheny county.

The hearing adjourned for noon recess.

All the witnesses who were asked to pick out their own ballots were first asked if they had written any names in on the ballot. They replied they had written names in for school director. They were then asked if they could identify their own handwriting and they said they could. They went through the ballots and picked out themselves. It is thought that this is the first time in the Lawrence county courts that voters were asked to identify their own ballot in a court action.

The case will likely take most of the afternoon session to complete.

While terms of Russian demands upon Finland are not known, it is believed they may include naval, air and possibly army bases on the Finnish Aland Islands and the Karlen peninsula, or on Hakland and other islands in the Gulf of Finland. The Soviets also will seek an extensive trade agreement, Finnish authorities believe.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHAT PARENTS CAN DO ABOUT STUDY HABITS

The most important thing for school success is to learn good methods and habits of study. Many a bright student in the grades, high school and college lags or fails because he has never acquired such habits. He has two problems: (a) To use his time effectively in the recitation, discussion or lecture period. (b) To use his time effectively when preparing for his next class or examination.

What can we parents do about it? Beginning with the baby, we can, by reading to him and continuing to do so past the time when he enters school, give him a reading background and motivate his interest in reading content, in meaning. We can even read to him at home occasionally from his school assignments in geography, history, science and the like, and help him pick out the high spots and derive ideas which he can express in his own language.

Habits at Home
Before the child begins to get assignments at school to be done at home, we parents can cultivate in him habits of concentrated mental exercises by having him read from a book or magazine for, say, half an hour each evening. When he gets homework assignments, we should see to it that he goes at the task at a regular time and in a regular place each evening, preferably right after the evening meal.

Never mind about his full stomach. If he waits till it is deflated, he may have been diverted by the funnies, radio or any one of hundreds of other distractions. Unless he has a quiet room of his own—and not many have—let the family keep reasonably quiet, with the radio silent and no one talking to him or about him. Help him cultivate the habit of getting everything ready before the regular time for beginning study, so he can go at it with a vim.

Children from eight to 14 who develop the habit of running about after dinner on evenings before school days, will not readily take to habits of doing homework when they reach senior high school age.

I wish there were no assigned homework in the lower elementary grades, and very little in the upper elementary grades, with more reasonable assignments than those that prevail in senior high school. For some children the homework is intolerable. This usually happens because of one or two inconsiderate teachers. They need to be curbed by the principal. I wish principals would take the responsibility they should in protecting children from excessive homework assignments.

Way to Efficiency
The best way for one to gain efficiency in study is during the recitation, discussion or lecture in class. One high school youth, who excels as a student but does not spend excessive hours at his study, said: "When I leave class and take stock of myself during the past period, I ask myself not how many questions I answered right, but how many of all that were asked of anybody I could have answered correctly."

There are some good books to aid parents and teachers in helping the child and youth study effectively, and for helping the pupil to help himself.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. When is the earliest time a youth should have his first lesson in learning to drive an automobile?
A. On the birthday when he has attained to the legal age for driving a car in his state.

SHOW APPRECIATION

The Service Stations of America are "Service" Stations. The attendants of these wayside stations are the embodiment of service, but it appears that the American motorist must be taught to appreciate the multitudinous extra services that are now being offered to him by these men. This was recently exemplified by a letter from a service station man to the "Retail Gasoline Review." Among the suggestions advanced by the writer for better service are the following:

1. Give the attendant time to serve his customers in the order of their appearance without blowing your horn or tearing out of the station like mad.
2. Don't bite off the attendant's ear, if he goes to check your oil. If you don't want any oil, merely say so.
3. Don't jam on your brakes at thirty miles an hour when coming into a cinder-covered driveway. The attendant has to rake it up after you leave.
4. Don't start your car while the attendant is looking at your radiator. He needs his eyes, too.

DON'T HOARD TROUBLES

Leave the burdens of the past in the past where they belong. Don't drag them out and add them up.

Each time some little thing goes wrong.

Don't harbor them from day to day.

To show to kindly friend, just put them out, they'll go away.

Leastwise, that is their trend.

Just give your troubles half a chance.

To get away from you, I'll bet that you'll be surprised.

To see how very few.

Will ever cross your path again.

Much less come in your door.

But if you pen them up—why say you'll count them by the score.

Just try to live each day, as is.

With nothing carried over.

Instead of dark clouds lurking by.

Over you they'll never hover.

Of course there may be dark days.

And tears and lamentations.

But hold your head up, struggle through.

Next day brings consolations.

Each bump we get in this old world.

Makes us a little stronger.

If we but let it pass on by.

Net did it linger longer.

Just carry the burdens of the day.

That much cannot be wrong.

But leave the burdens of the past in the past, where they belong.

Just over the tops of the billboards lie the beauties of the universe.

We don't blame some women for not wanting to be with their husbands when they buy their clothes, especially neckties.

What's What At A Glance

Senator Capper Is Unusual
Is Rational As Pacifists Go
Almost Too Bellicose For Peace

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas is about as effective a pacifist as this country has got. Paradoxical as it may seem, the average pacifist is almost to a bellicose in his passion for peace. Take Congress, for instance. Of course, there isn't any pro-war bloc in Capitol Hill, but some of the lawmakers are more violently pacifistic than others, and the members of the extremely ultra group in general are so vehement that they arouse a certain amount of antagonism among legislators who don't feel quite as strongly as the 200 percenters do.

Pacifistic organizations outside the congressional ranks incline to be pretty strenuous, too.

Illustratively, on the eve of the senate's neutrality debate, delegations of these folk besieged the senators' office building in swarms, to demand retention of our arms embargo. They were so belligerent that the Capitol police had to take extra precautions to save a senator or two from being mobbed.

Maybe the cops were not unduly careful, either. It's to be recalled that, during the last World War, an enthusiastic pacifist called on the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Sr., to convince the latter of the undesirability of American participation in the strife, and finding the senator less responsive than he'd hoped, smote him sorely, on the nose.

The Capitol building itself is extra-patrolled, lest demonstrators muss up its architecture to call attention to their cause. They did it the last time, with considerable resultant damage.

Senator Capper's Reasoning

Senator Capper, though, while as good a pacifist as the best of them, is thoroughly rational. Rather than fighting for peace he evangelizes for it. He talks convincingly but his language is temperate. If he thinks that a fellow senator isn't quite as pro-peace as he'd like him to be, he doesn't assume that his associate is a war-monger; he tries to convert him, not to tear off his scalp.

There's a deal of argument for American military preparation, to keep us out of war. This is all right with Senator Capper, but he wants to be darned sure that the preparatory program isn't ulteriorly and perhaps sub-consciously contemplative of getting Uncle Sam into war later.

Senator Nye's upper congressional chamber's outstanding neutralist. Other senators are just as neutral as he is. Senator Capper's of 'em. But Nye invented our neutrality law, which makes him conspicuous.

Well, Nye and Capper agree. They're an interesting pair.

Nye comparatively is young. If we get into this war, probably he'll be alive to experience its subsequent unpleasantness—a wrecked world, including America. He has personal reasons for disliking the prospect.

Capper's a very old man. Personally, he's disinclined. He's just using his best judgment for posterity. For himself, he won't be here.

Honest Differences

There's room for honest differences of opinion on the neutrality issue.

Sensors Nye and Capper submit that, if we don't sell arms to any belligerent at all, that's neutrality. But Chairman Pittman and Bloom of the senate and house foreign relations committees say it isn't, because, if we said, "We indiscriminately, anybody could come here and get 'em. That is, England and France could, but Germany couldn't, since Germany's effectively blocked. Accordingly, if we embargo everybody, we're discriminating in favor of Germany. You're entitled to look at it either way.

When the last war ended England and France, among several countries, owed us billions, which they never have paid. Senator Johnson of California got a law passed prohibiting any further American loans to our defaulting debtors. Now it's proposed, despite this law, to give today's belligerents 90 days per purchase to pay for whatever arms they may buy from us. If we stand pat on the Johnson law, says Senator Pittman, we discriminate in Germany's favor, inasmuch as Germany isn't one of our defaulters and England and France are. Advocates of this concession maintain that such a 90-day allowance isn't a debt, but a customary commercial accommodation. It's a trifle too technical a point for the ordinary non-commercial intelligence to consider understandingly, but no doubt it has its merits.

Anyway, Senator Capper listens to these arguments and dissents non-quarrelsomely. It's unusual in a pacifist.

So beautiful a world is this
Roofed over with a field of stars,
How tragic and how mad it is
That man should give his years to wars!

So fair the moon upon the snow,
So bright the hyacinths of spring,
How mad that man to war must go
And shatter every lovely thing.

Once more the cannons flame and roar,
Again the helpless children flee,
Death and destruction strike once more
Seeding more wars that are to be.

Since men to bestial war will cling
Despite the lessons of the years,
How tragic and how sad a thing
This being civilized appears!

The Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

The Balance Of Power

Washington, Oct. 9.

SO far as the outcome of the neutrality fight is concerned, the central practical fact is that the senate balance of power rests in the hands of the anti-New Deal Democrats, nearly all of whom are supporting the administration proposal to lift the embargo.

CLEARLY they are in control of the situation. The Pittman bill cannot be passed without their votes. There are about eighteen Democrats in the senate strongly opposed to the basic New Deal policies, and intensely distrustful of Mr. Roosevelt personally. Nine of these have unsuccessfully attempted to drive out of public life because they revolted from his effort to pack the Supreme Court. But without the votes of these men the present foreign policy now would be doomed. Without these men, most of whom he and his aides have been denouncing for the past two years, his neutrality program would not have a chance.

THE THICK and thin Administration men today are in a minority in both branches of congress. This has been convincingly proved in a number of tests. Mr. Roosevelt lost control in the last session and found himself thwarted on practically every major proposal. While his present program will prevail at this session—and should—that does not mean he has gained control. On the contrary, it is obvious that he is dependent for the success of his foreign policy upon the Democrats most antagonistic to his domestic policies, and generally referred to by White House spokesmen as Tories, Bourbon and reactionaries.

OF COURSE, it is equally true that the isolationists group fighting to retain the embargo are dependent upon the anti-Administration Democrats for success in any effort to amend the Pittman bill. In brief, the situation is wholly in the latter's hands. With the votes of the isolationists they can amend the bill in any way they want. With the Administration votes they can pass it as amended. When the debate is over it will be found they have done both. They will have passed a bill lifting the embargo as the President has urged, but making changes which he neither urges nor desires.

AT LEAST that is the present intention. It is also their purpose before the fight ends to make it clear that in backing the main Administration proposal it is not the president they are supporting, but the principle and that there is a great difference between the two. For example, the so-called "cash and carry" principle, which is the vital part of the bill, did not originate with the president at all, but was laid before the senate committee a good many months ago by Mr. B. B. Baruch, who frankly asserted that while it was not the New Deal, a noble plan, it certainly was the safe and practical way for their country to meet the export problems that would be raised by a European war.

THE Baruch suggestion was warmly endorsed by a number of senators, some pro and others anti New Deal, quite a long time before the president got around to believing in it. Under the circumstances, there seems some justification for the resentment among them over the deliberate effort of White House propagandists to create a "support-the-president" psychology for their own political purposes, and make it appear that leading Democrats who have been opposed to the New Deal are now partisans of the President.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

Senator Borah, leader of the isolationist bloc in congress extends a "peace" offer of the neutrality bill fight: "We are still willing to accept the administration bill if the administration will leave in the law the embargo on arms, ammunition and implements of war and provide for cash instead of credit on other commodities."

Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York talks of peace to the American Federation of Labor at Cincinnati: "I hope that the time is not distant when there will be again one big happy, forceful, effective family of labor."

Agustin Edwards, Chilean banker and publisher and former president of the league of nations, sails from New York for his home with the prediction: "If the world ever achieves a solid basis for peace, it will have to put its resources at the disposal of all."

BRITISH TAXES SHOW WAR BURDEN

NO ONE need have any doubt as to what a modern war really means. The British schedule of war taxes, adopted without a murmur of complaint in Parliament, show in bold relief an outline of the burden. No one can escape.

Wage-earners whose annual income is as low as $480 will pay $3 income tax if unmarried. A married man without children whose income is $1,000 will pay about $29. The same man making $2,000 will pay about $250. And the tax schedule will be higher next year. With this stiff tax dose comes a sharp increase in surtaxes on higher incomes, and a jump of from 10 to 20 per cent in estate duties. Excess profits will be promptly taken in taxes, and consumption taxes on items like beer

Although none of them were for fires of any consequence city firemen were kept extremely busy on Saturday and Sunday, as Fire Prevention Week was ushered in. Seven alarms in all were answered.

This morning at 10:20 o'clock, firemen were called to the old plant of the Lawrence Ice and Storage Company, where workmen are dismantling the old equipment. Fire had been started in cork insulation about the freezing machinery by firemen using an acetylene torch. They had answered an alarm for a similar cause at the plant on Sunday evening at 10 o'clock.

Sunday noon, they were summoned to the home of H. T. Otto, of 916 Morton street, by an alarm from Box 48, when occupants of the home returned from church to find the house filled with smoke caused by burning paper in the furnace. The chimney didn't draw and the smoke oozed out into the house.

Sunday morning at 7:05 o'clock, the neon sign in the H. E. Druschel florist shop at 1239 South Mill St., was found to be sparking. Firemen pulled out the connection. The loss was around $5.

Saturday night at 11:38, a motor in the cellar of the A. and P. store at 715 North Liberty street, was found to be smoking, having overheated. Firemen pulled the switch and shut off the current. Damage amounted to around $25.

At 9:22 Saturday evening, there was a false alarm from Box 67.

At 8:46 p. m. Saturday, firemen were called to the corner of Mercer and Lincoln avenues, when someone left a lighted cigaret on the rear seat of an auto bearing license No. 8H462. Firemen forced an entrance into the car and put out the blaze. Damage amounted to around $25.

Sixteeners Have Reunion In City

Group Enjoys Dinner Gathering At Home Of Mr. And Mrs. Tripp, Highland Avenue

A very enjoyable reunion of the Sixteeners took place Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Tripp, Highland avenue, attended by 30 members and guests. The hostess served a delicious dinner to the reunioners.

Sixteeners, in case you don't know, are sons and daughters whose fathers died in the Civil War and who were cared for in the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home in Mercer county until 16 years of age. The home was discontinued in 1889, but the spirit of the Sixteeners has lived through the years. A big reunion is held in Mercer county every August. It has been the custom to have a "baby reunion" such as that in New Castle, a few weeks later, at which Sixteeners from a distance are bade farewell.

One of the program features Saturday was a vocal solo by John Phillips, grandson of a Sixteeners, Mrs. John B. Haley, of this city. John sang appropriately "God Bless America," and several encores by request.

Out-of-towners included the following: Mrs. Margaret Woods Heath of Baldwin Park, Cal.; Mrs. Lucy Messenger Platt, Nellie Houston, Olive J. Platt and Mrs. Lizzie Locke Porter, of Oil City; Mrs. Nellie Fitzpatrick Sankey of Aliquippa; Mrs. Florence Caldwell Shelar and Harry Shelar, of Beaver Falls; Ben Shelar and Mrs. Ella J. Wimer of Ellwood City; R. D. 1, Mrs. Luella Rupert Wilson, Mrs. Isabel Wilson Manley and Arthur Manley, of Mercer; Mrs. Belle Nye Pander of Ellwood City; R. D. 2, Mrs. Jennie Boughton of Cleveland Heights, O.; Mrs. Belle Saxe Halliday of Cleveland, O.; and Alice Shoup of McKeesport. There were, of course, a number of Sixteeners from New Castle.

because they are supporting his neutrality legislation.

THE MOST recent example is the way in which the White House has sought to exploit the fact that Senator Carter Glass of Virginia commended Mr. Roosevelt's message and has announced for the Pittman bill. Those who know Senator Glass knew that he was for the principle of the bill many months ago. And when he is for anything he says so. However, there was nothing in what he said or did to justify the story put out by the White House that a "dramatic reconciliation" between him and Mr. Roosevelt had been achieved, that their differences had been adjusted and their friendship renewed. That was the version that came from the White House press agent, but it just does not happen to be true.

Tonight at 5:45 o'clock, in The Castleton, New Castle Exchange club members will hold their weekly dinner meeting. The occasion will be in the form of guest night. Professor W. Biggs, Westminster college, will be the principal speaker.

ident have not been adjusted, and his opposition to every New Deal policy remains undimmed. So, too, is his conviction that Mr. Roosevelt has wrought irreparable damage to the country. Nor has his confidence been restored in the man personally.

IT is the principle Senator Glass is supporting, not the president, and that "dramatic reconciliation" story was part of the effort of the White House strategists to utilize the present nonpartisan and nonfactional line-up to create a politically desirable "support the president" psychology. It is not the purpose of the anti-New Deal leaders to let this lessen their advocacy of lifting the embargo, but it is their purpose, before the bill is passed, to let the country know they are aware of the game being played and make it plain that support of the president in this matter does not mean support in other matters. In particular it does not mean any diminution in the desire for a change of administration in 1940.

Would Double National Guard

Will Offer Resolution At National Guard Association Meeting To That Effect

OFFICER LIST NEEDS INCREASING

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 9.—A resolution that the national guard be doubled will be among those presented to the National Guard Association of Pennsylvania, meeting here October 12, 13 and 14. Col. Benjamin C. Jones of Tyrone announced today.

Col. Jones, commander of the 103rd cavalry, said that the resolution committee he heads will lay before the convention a proposed recommendation that the national guard strength be raised to 435,000 men. A recent war department authorization provided for an increase to 235,000 men. Gen. John J. Pershing, however, recommended a national guard strength of 435,000.

Increase Officers
Other proposals, Col. Jones explained, will include recommendations that the number of regular army sergeants assigned to the national guard be increased; that a complete military radio net over Pennsylvania be established; that an officer be placed on permanent duty at each regimental headquarters of the national guard; and that the state provide suitable grave markers for the last resting places of deceased national guardsmen.

National military and state leaders will address the convention. They will be headed by Major Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the U. S. army.

Weed Complaints Are Sent To State

Local Authorities Must Enforce Provisions Of Law Is Statement

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Complaints involving careless property owners who allow noxious weeds to seed and spread to other properties have been received by the Pennsylvania department of agriculture. In each case it was explained that local authorities and not the state were charged with enforcement of the Pennsylvania weed law.

The legal procedure for one who is "aggrieved or about to be injured" by the growth of Canadian Thistle or Chicory is to inform by written notice any constable or supervisor of the township or district in which the weeds may be growing, the department stated.

It is the duty of the notified officer to give five days' notice in writing to the owner of the land concerned, it was added. If the owner refused to cut the Canadian Thistle or Chicory, the official may hire some one to do the work and charge the costs to the owner. The state department of agriculture is not authorized to enforce this law and must refer all complainants to local authorities, officials asserted.

(International News Service)
CARLISLE, Pa., Oct. 9.—The educational program of Germany and Russia made possible what is happening in Europe today, President Fred Pierce Corson told the students of Dickinson college in urging upon them the necessity of having a definite design for education.

"Europe," he said, "gives us an example of what a design for education can do for a people. If the people had not been taught in schools and through the propaganda agencies the theory that the individual has no rights but is the slave of the state, dictatorships could not survive."

Dr. Corson declared that if democracy is to survive in America, the theory of individual rights and the principles of democracy must be a part of our design for education.

Illumination on the Main avenue span is unusual. Visible for 20 miles at night, a photo-electric cell turns the lights on automatically when natural illumination falls below the level necessary for the safe driving. The bridge is lighted by 139 sodium vapor lamps set 110 feet apart along the one-and-one-eighth-mile roadway.

My occasional collaborator, Mr. Hymie Augen, can't get it out of his head that things were a lot better in this town back in the old days. Yes and no, we would conclude, but it is obvious that any critical appraisal of our times from the frank viewpoint of another day is helpful to us in viewing accurately our own mis scene. Since Mr. Augen, as a prominent stuss and blackjack dealer, knew many of the leading picaroons of his day, he brings forward fragment memories of our "Age of Innocence" which, such earlier authors as Edith Wharton overlooked. Mr. Augen, will you kindly turn back the clock?

Speaking of tenors (Editorial note: Nobody had said a word about tenors) there aren't any around here any more. This town needs a few good tenors more than it does that new Sixth Avenue subway. I just saw Eddie Murphy on the street the other day. Eddie was the tenor in the Gas House quartette that used to sing in Miner's Bowery theatre. It was enough to make you cry the way Eddie would fan up that long wavy hair at the end. We had nice songs, too, like "When the Harvest Days are Over, Jessie Dear, and not all this moaning, etc."

"But tenors was not mainly what I have on my mind, except it was what made me think that these smart young mugs around town are in many ways just hicks after all. I'm at a show the other night, with a lot of girls and crooning and so on, and one girl is pretty schmailt

TO THE EMPLOYED MAN OR WOMAN WHO NEEDS A CASH LOAN

Read how you can borrow $20 to $300 privately and simply—Repay in monthly installments that fit your budget—Quick service

YOU, like most employed people, probably find that you must sometimes borrow to meet emergencies. If you need only a few dollars for a short time, you get a loan from a friend or relative.

But when you need $50, $100 or $200 you doubtless hesitate to ask others to advance money to you. That's when Household Finance can help you. For Household Finance has a special loan plan for employed men and women faced with urgent money problems.

No endorsers required
To borrow at a bank requires collateral. Or you must ask others to endorse your note—to act as guarantors in case you are unable to repay your loan. The Household plan spares you this embarrassment.

When you borrow at Household you don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign your note. We ask for no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. Loans are made on furniture, car or note. No credit inquiries are made of friends or relatives. You get the money you need privately, promptly and without embarrassment.

Repay in installments
You repay your loan in convenient monthly installments. Suppose you need $100. Twelve monthly installments of $9.75 each, for instance, will repay your loan in full. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.97 per month for 18 months will also repay a $100 loan.

Find the amount of cash you need in the first column of the loan table. Then read across, picking out the monthly payment which fits your budget. See how you may make very small payments if you wish. Or you may pay larger installments and repay sooner. Note that a $100 loan repaid in four monthly installments, for instance, costs only $6.32.

One rate to everyone
Household has only one price—the same rate to all, whether new customers or former borrowers.

In case of sickness or unemployment, Household shows the borrower every consideration. Last year Household foreclosed on only one chattel mortgage for each 10,000 loans—an action taken then only as protection against fraud.

Get details—no obligation
Study the loan and payment table. Then phone or visit us for further information without obligation.

State Has Big Retail Trade

Over 125,000 Retail Establishments Found In Pennsylvania, Survey Shows

DO TWO BILLION AND HALF BUSINESS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Long regarded as one of the nation's foremost industrial states, Pennsylvania today boasts a retail trade of $2,500,000,000 annually and furnishing employment to approximately 250,000 people.

Secretary of Commerce Richard P. Brown revealed that the state has more than 125,000 establishments serving the needs of Pennsylvanians, exclusive of 40,000 "service" establishments, such as repair shops and custom industries.

A fourth of those engaged in retail trade, Brown said, were proprietors. In eight of the state's 67 counties, he added, there were more proprietors than employees.

Those counties in which this situation existed were Forest, Fulton, Juniata, Perry, Pike, Snyder, Sullivan and Susquehanna, Brown said.

"The pattern of sales made by the stores of this state," he explained, "is noteworthy because of the per capita differences to be found in different counties."

For instance, in Philadelphia, the per capita sales are $337 per annum, which is the highest of any county in the state. In the lowest county, however, the annual retail sales per capita are only $93, far below the over-all state average of $259.

The variation in these per capita totals, Brown asserted, is due in large part to the shopping habits of the people. In counties containing important cities, he explained, residents of surrounding counties journey into the bigger communities to purchases goods unobtainable in their own localities.

Communications Unit Of Red Cross Conducts District Test Sunday

In the event that New Castle should ever have an emergency whereby all of the power and communication lines were down, it was shown in a demonstration here Sunday that the communications unit of the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross Emergency Corps could adequately handle the situation.

This communications unit is comprised of local radio amateur operators, who in the event of an emergency could operate their equipment to establish communication.

The tests Sunday centered about the New Castle airport, where the airplane of William H. Ice was used in two aerial observation flights. The first flight was from the city to the Pymatuning dam, with Chief Operator Mrs. Irene Robinson, W8QEV, handling the communication from the airplane.

On the second flight, from New Castle down through the valley to Pittsburgh, Robert Fraser, W8QEP, handled the communication. Mr. Robinson and kept in contact with the key stations in New Castle, and talked to operators in cities along the route.

At the Pymatuning dam the plane was in communication with Mrs. C. A. Brown, local operator of station W8QUD, who had her equipment installed at the administration building. Also at the dam was a portable mobile unit operated from a car by J. E. Abrend, W8EUO, of Menaca.

Mrs. Brown, at the dam, kept in touch with W8RBI, Arch Foster, who operated one of the key stations here in New Castle and with W8QCH located at the airport.

Following message was sent by Mrs. Brown at the dam and copied at the New Castle airport, and was signed by Norman S. Powell, superintendent at the dam: "The Pymatuning reservoir stands at an elevation of 1004.5 feet at tide today (Sunday), which is three and one half feet below the normal flow line. Twelve billion gallons of water have been released since June 1, to augment the flow of the Shenango river."

"At the present time, 105 million gallons per 24 hours is being released on account of the drought of the past summer. The reservoir, today, stands at the lowest level since its construction."

Francis Florida, operator of W8JNX, aided Mrs. Brown at the dam. Francis, DuPont, operator of W8MQO, served as local co-ordinator for the American Red Cross and operated from his station at home and at the airport.

A. C. Clay served as official observer for the tests. While enroute to Pittsburgh in the plane, conducted communication was established with Pittsburgh stations W8GJN and W8RUE and with Allegheny station W8CIR, and with the key stations here.

Several messages were sent to various Red Cross chapters and to officials of the American Radio Relay league. Replies of congratulation were received on the set-up and success of the venture.

Joe Yachabach served as ground technician at the airport. Credit for the success of the tests is due to the efforts of Aries Crumm, general chairman; Ralph F. Davis, Red Cross head; William Ice, local radio operator, and all those who took part Sunday. Other stations cooperating were W8MTG, W8QJY, W8PYO, and W8TJF, all of New Castle, and W8TAD of Youngstown.

Will Seek To Increase Bail

District Attorney At Mauch
Chunk Will Ask That
Franklin's Bail Be Increased

(International News Service)
MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., Oct. 9.—An increase in bail for Benjamin Franklin, suspended state police corporal accused of firing eight fatal bullets into 14-year-old Joan Stevie, was asked today by District Attorney Albert H. Heimbach.

Franklin, who claims he fired in "self-defense" after the 87-pound schoolgirl threatened him with a weapon which turned out to be a toy cap pistol, was indicted last week for murder and involuntary manslaughter. Scheduled opening of his trial tomorrow has been delayed by a request for a change of venue and Heimbach said that in view of the indictments he will demand higher bond today, when the trooper's present bail is returnable.

Prosecution Rife
Meanwhile, counsel for the Nequehoning "Justice" committee pleaded for Attorney General Claude T. Reno to supersede Heimbach and personally conduct the prosecution. Reno's intervention, said Attorney James F. McCready, would eliminate a purported rift in the prosecution staff.

At a conference to be attended by the attorney general today, McCready said he would also request that Franklin be prosecuted on a second degree murder count, instead of a suggested manslaughter charge, and that the commonwealth agree to defense counsel's petition for a change of venue.

PARIS, Oct. 9.—While every shred of evidence and every concrete development pointed toward merciless prosecution of hostilities by Great Britain and France, persistent rumors circulated in Paris today that some sort of armistice or temporary truce is in the making.

The rumors are passed along simply because they were heard on all sides. Diplomatic activity on a tremendous scale is under way. Of that there is no question. But reports of its progress and direction are so nebulous and contradictory that it is difficult to detect the main currents.

night there was activity of elements in contact in the lower valley of the Nied and south of Saarbrücken.

But the communique issued last night was more informative and indicated that advance patrols in the French-invested Saar region at last are coming to grips with the German troops in dead earnest. It stated:

"Enemy hand thrusts in the region east of the Moselle were repulsed. Reciprocal artillery actions are noted in the regions south and southeast of Saarlsruhe."

Fighting Still Preliminary
The phrase "enemy hand thrusts" was taken as an indication of fierce close-quarter combat, although the fighting is still in its preliminary, probing stages.

But while warfare quickened at the front, the battle at home against communists was speedily ahead with 40 communist troops under arrest as the result of a nation-wide round-up. Several of the most important French red leaders, nevertheless, evaded arrest and are believed to have fled the country.

Five communist deputies were arrested this morning.

Among the communists missing but still sought are Maurice Thorez, former secretary general of the communist party in France, Florimond Bonie and Jacques Duclos.

Thorez also is hunted as a deserter from the army. He took a leave of absence which expired Oct. 4, but failed to return to duty.

With the return of good weather, the French admitted the loss of one reconnaissance plane, which took advantage of clear skies to attempt a photographic mission to Bonn, Germany. The craft is still missing.

Frequently yesterday French and German pursuit planes engaged in battle over the front. It was indicated in Paris that the French have carried on air attacks behind the German lines, but there were no official announcements on this point.

CLUB FOOT A COMMON CON- GENITAL ILL

One of the most common congenital malformations the human race suffers from is club foot. Fortunately it can be corrected, and about all that is needed to accomplish this is plenty of perseverance and patience.

We have all seen some adult walking on the street with a foot turned under in such a way that he walks on the outside of the foot. This is a case of club foot which has been neglected.

I have seen mothers become hysterical when they discovered that their child had this deformity, and yet with a few exceptions every baby I have brought into the world in this condition has been cured. The exceptions were those who did not have the proper treatment.

Of the four varieties of club foot, the most common is that in which the foot is turned in so that the person walks on the inside of the foot. Sometimes, in addition, the person can't straighten the foot out but must walk on the toes as well as on the outside of the foot.

Another type is where the child walks on the inside of the foot with the member turned out; still another, where there has been a shortening of tendons in the leg and foot so that the toes cannot be put down and the person must walk on the heel.

Each type must be treated carefully, and the treatment is "largely up to the parents. The mother and father must make up their minds to work faithfully over the poor, twisted feet for months and in some cases years, if the child is ever to be normal.

If the mother is intelligent and

The young house-wife was sewing on tiny garments. She saw a horrible bearded face at the window. She screamed—and fainted. Consequently, her baby was born with coarse hair on its body. This is a favorite story, but an entirely false one.

Birthmarks are not caused by prenatal maternal frights. They are malformations of the skin or mucous membranes. Tiny blood vessels under the skin enlarge.

Birthmarks are usually small and raised slightly above the skin. They develop before or soon after the child is born.

There is no substantiated evidence that fright causes a birthmark.

Many people continue to believe such falsehoods.

Russia And Germany To Begin Trade Exchange

Germany To Get Raw Materials

Economic Collaboration Plans Are Worked Out By Two Nations

GERMAN PRODUCTS WILL GO TO RUSSIA

(International News Service) MOSCOW, Oct. 9.—The Soviet union will commence supplying raw materials to belligerent Germany immediately, it was announced today.

Agreement to this effect was reached by Soviet foreign commissar and Premier V. M. Molotov and a German trade commission which arrived by plane from Berlin yesterday afternoon.

Molotov and the German delegates also agreed upon immediate commencement of exports of German products to Russia.

The announcement also stated the two nations would effect "with accelerated speed and on a wide scale" the economic collaboration plans worked out during the last visit to Moscow of German foreign minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

Decision Reached
The decision was reached late last night at the Kremlin after Molotov and Dictator Josef Stalin held a lengthy conference with Lithuanian representatives.

Announcement of a Soviet-Lithuanian pact similar to those concluded by Russia and Estonia and Latvia was expected momentarily.

Sources close to the German embassy in Moscow said the trade agreement with the U. S. S. R. will be put into effect "as quickly as possible and on the largest possible scale."

The German commissioners were believed to have urged haste in carrying out the agreements on grounds that it was necessary to offset the Anglo-French blockade against the Reich.

Under its terms, Russia is expected to export foodstuffs as well as other necessary raw materials to Germany.

Soviet officials were elated over Finland's decision to send a representative to Moscow to negotiate "political and economic" questions. It was believed this will result in a Finnish-Soviet agreement which, with the other Russian Baltic agreements, will give the Soviet union complete domination over the Eastern Baltic.

(Editor's note: From Washington, based on a report from its commercial attaché in Berlin, the U. S. department of commerce expressed skepticism over Germany's prospects of replenishing her oil supplies from Russia's wells. Static condition of Russian production for the last six years, mixing of low quality oils with superior fuel and paucity of skilled operation of Russian wells and refineries was cited as factors adverse to quick step-up of effective Soviet shipments to the Reich.)

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—One indirect effect of the war has been its effect upon the flow of news from the State Capitol.

For the first time in years the Capitol as a source of worthwhile news has become practically nil. Veteran reporters say they have to go back to the Fisher administration to recall a similar period. Some think newspapers will eventually, as the war continues to drag on, go back to the system adopted by some papers in the World War and run a special state news page.

As the Pierson work-for-relief act fails to live up to the expectations of its backers, a new plan to supplement it is now being broached by the state government commission. The suggested plan is for a give-a-job campaign throughout the state. The idea is not new. In fact, it is quite old, having been tried out earlier during the first few years of the depression. Then municipalities were divided into blocks and residents of each block were asked to provide a job for some unemployed person. Unfortunately, the jobless problem was so large that the plan failed to make any appreciable progress.

Popular with thousands of visitors who annually come to the Capitol, many in special trains from New York, are the paintings and murals illustrating Pennsylvania scenes. Some of the most popular are the lunette-shaped murals of W. B. Van Lennep. Located in the south main corridor, appreciation of their beauty has been hampered by the absence of good lighting. In an effort to correct this the department of property and supplies is trying out a vapor-tube electric light, hung perpendicularly along one of the drop lights. The vapor light throws a daylight glow on the pictures. If the plan is found workable similar lamps will be placed along the corridor.

Approximately 60 per cent of all persons placed in private employment during August by the state employment service were under 30 years of age, while workers over 40 accounted for more than one-fifth of the total, according to statistics released by Secretary of Labor and Industry Lewis G. Hines. Of those placed, women outnumbered men by a ratio of 62 per cent to 38 per cent.

There may be recurrent agitation when the General Assembly meets again for abolition of the department of mines and the department of forests and waters. At a recent meeting of a sub-committee of the state government commission which is delving into government costs, one prominent member suggested two departments be relegated to the status of bureaus.

Will War On Trucks Bunching On Roads

Motor Police Head Instructs Highway Patrolmen To Arrest Offenders

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Oct. 9.—Based on complaints that trucks were following one another closer on Pennsylvania's highways than allowable by law, this resulting in a traffic hazard, Col. Lynn G. Adams, commissioner of motor police, has instructed all patrolmen to carefully observe such conditions and take the necessary action looking forward to reduction of accidents.

Adams stated that during 1938 there were 2658 vehicles forced off the roadways, based on figures released by the department of revenue, that were involved in motor vehicle accidents. Of this number 34 resulted in fatalities, while 1527 resulted in property damage to the vehicles involved.

During 1938 there were 302 arrests made by the Pennsylvania Motor Police for violation of this provision of the vehicle code, which, he pointed out, constituted an insignificant percentage of the violations of this type committed annually.

War Refugees Are Being Aided

Lawrence County Chapter Of Red Cross Advised Of Assistance Being Given

MONEY ALLOTTED FOR ASSISTANCE

In a bulletin received from the National Chairman of the American Red Cross, the Lawrence County Chapter has had a very important report on the war relief situation as is now being carried on by the National Red Cross. The Central Committee of the American Red Cross has allotted $250,000 to finance immediate needs; $50,000 was allocated for Polish relief.

The situation is changing so rapidly that it is hard for national office to give complete details in any one bulletin but the local chapter is advised that in Rumania there are approximately 23,000 refugees, 17,000 soldiers and 6,000 civilians. The soldiers are interned in camps and are receiving government assistance.

The civilians are destitute and being helped by the Rumanian Red Cross. In Lithuania there are 9,000 soldiers, 11,000 refugees and 2,000 civilians. The Lithuania Red Cross is helping. In Hungary there are said to be 25,000 refugees being cared for by the Hungarian Red Cross in cooperation with the government. From the emergency fund of the American Red Cross, the Central Committee has made available $25,000 to assist in these urgent situations, and the League of Red Cross societies has sent $5,000. Mr. Norman Davis, chairman, American Red Cross, states in this bulletin that the needs of the future cannot be foretold.

From time to time the Red Cross chapter will receive these bulletins and will give to the press the information as it is received from the National Red Cross committee and the League of Red Cross societies who are at all times studying the problems and giving a true report of the situation existing.

Good Health And Good Credit Go Hand In Hand!

Illness and accidents can cause problems in any home. Illness of some nature is likely to come to each of us. If it be of a serious nature it can cause embarrassing financial problems in any home.

When illness or accidents come there is usually unexpected expense. Store accounts cannot be met and somebody has to wait before money is available to pay these credit accounts. This non-payment does not in all cases indicate an unwillingness to pay, but rather it does definitely prove lack of ability to pay. Earnings may have been curtailed while expenses mount, for expenses do not stop just because someone is ill. Then household worries begin.

Such conditions bring to the alert, considerate, well informed Credit Manager a real opportunity to apply the social relations of consumer credit. He must know the facts. If not at hand, he ought to ask his Credit Exchange to make a current investigation to secure the current, unbiased facts before he arrives, at a hasty decision as to the proper handling of each individual case.

Here the Credit Manager has an opportunity to retain good will for his house, an opportunity to collect at the earliest possible date, while the hasty, ill informed, inconsiderate Credit Manager (if any there be) only adds to family worries and tends to destroy all the good will built through years of effort and advertising. It isn't very difficult to determine the wiser course.

Hasty decisions without facts at hand frequently cause honest families to shift their trading. Would it not be far better to hesitate a moment and ask yourself a few simple questions. Were they good paying customers? If they were, then surely there must be something wrong. Why not find out just what it is before any hasty action is taken? Maybe it isn't their fault. Maybe it's something beyond their control. Wouldn't that be the common sense procedure?

Accidents sometimes mar our lives and our credit records as well.

Strange as it may seem, we have actually watched people look at a signal light, and if they saw a green signal showing on the side of the light governing the flow of traffic on the street they wished to cross, they assumed that it meant that they could cross. As a consequence they were quickly in traffic trouble—in the midst of automobiles approaching from both directions. Little did they realize that they should have been governed by the light guiding the flow of traffic going the same direction they wished to go.

Almost every day we read of fatal accidents because someone did not observe the rules of the road; did not stop at a "Stop Sign", or foolishly walked into the path of oncoming cars. They ignored the rules for safe living. An accident occurs, there is pain and suffering, there was added expense for somebody to bear, and there was most likely caused a reason why somebody's credit account would not be paid as agreed.

When you realize that 32,000 people are killed and a million injured in motor accidents annually don't think it's the fast drivers alone, for pedestrians constituted 40 per cent of all last year's traffic casualties. It is therefore unreasonable to estimate that at least one million credit accounts were affected through those accidents.

Every accident is related to good credit. Every day there is a loss of income, there is less to pay for our daily normal needs. In the long run somebody must pay for that accident; that moment of carelessness; that moment of thoughtlessness. All too frequently it is the business houses of our land, who have extended those families the accommodation of a charge account, who must share that cost.

By virtue of this related condition we deem it of sufficient importance to bring this subject to the attention of our newspapers, our members and others of our community. It must be realized that both illness and accidents do affect business conditions, just to the extent by which they are numbered among our population.

Let's be safe drivers. Let's be safe walkers as well. Tempers will still be cooled a bit and there will be many

Due to the coming change in the number of rural mail route 8 to No. 7, many patrons along the route have been inquiring at the Mahoningtown post office regarding the change of address for their automobile and driving licenses.

According to Edwin McBride, superintendent at the Mahoningtown Post Office, a check with the state police reveals that a change is not necessary immediately, but may be made on receipt of the application for next year's license.

Seek Embargo Act Changes To Aid Coast Shipping

Senate Minority Sees Much Damage To West Coast Shipping By Bill

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—A determined bi-partisan senate minority formulated amendment to liberalize the drastic shipping prohibitions of the administration arms embargo repeal neutrality bill today.

Bucking leadership opposition out claiming powerful strength, this group opened a fight to reduce the loss to American shipping which experts said would result from the proposed bill's sections prohibiting U. S. boats from carrying any cargoes to belligerents or their possessions.

Sensors George (D) Colorado, White (R) Maine, Adams (D) Colorado and senate commerce committee Bailey (D) North Carolina formed the spearheads of this drive.

Senator Borah (R) Idaho, leader of the opposition force, supported the program which these senators will put forward, with particular emphasis on West coast shipping.

"I think we should be reasonable, and not inflict this heavy damage on our own American interests," he said.

The move to help shipping got underway as general debate over the neutrality issue was extended to include the house as well as the senate.

Saturday Hectic Day For Gridiron Bigwigs

If there is a shortage of aspirin, smelling salts and other reviving medicines, take a gander at the week-end gridiron results and you'll soon know why.

Saturday's collegiate pigskin parade was one of the most hectic in many years and sent big time coaches and sport scribes hustling towards the press box, corner drug store. Quite a few of the nation's grid powers behaved as mild as the weather. Briefly, upsets were quite the thing.

District Results
Western Pennsylvania, fortunately, managed to escape any of the major upheavals of the day. With "Joey" Sutthelund sitting along the sidelines, Pitt university's Panthers rolled along smoothly to a 20-0 triumph over rough West Virginia. Dick Cassiano, an early favorite for an All-American post, again was the feature performer for the Bowser machine.

As the clock ticked off the final seconds of play, Carnegie Tech's Tartans rose to great defensive heights as they recorded a 6-0 victory over a surprisingly strong Temple eleven. Tech scored in the initial chapter but was unable to cross pay dirt again. Muha and Condit sparked the Plaid attack.

Westminster's Titans sidetracked the California Teachers, 19-0. Laposki scored twice for the Lawrence countians. Slippery Rock subdued Millersville, 38-0. Hiram displayed lots of power in dispatching of Grove City college. The final score, 21-0. Allegheny tied Haverford, 13-13.

Fordham Down
One of the biggest upsets of the day saw a highly favored Fordham eleven lose to Alabama, 7-6. The trusty toe of Sandy Sanford, the kicker deluxe, gave the Bama's a starting triumph. The Ram was outclassed all day, finally crossing touchdown land in the final stanza.

Cornell spilled Syracuse, 19-6, in impressive style. New York U had a field day, piling up a 43-0 count against Penn Military. Boston U experienced difficulty in moving down Franklin and Marshall, 13-7. Penn met a tartar in Lafayette but managed to win, 6-0. America's service teams, Army and Navy, were involved in the toughest clashes of the day. Army rallied in the final period to whip Center, 9-6, while Navy eked out a 42-12 victory over Virginia.

Holy Cross Loses
Holy Cross was wiped from the list of undefeated aggregations in another startling upset, Louisiana State doing the trick, 26-7. The margin of triumph tells the tale as far as the Crusaders' 1939 club is concerned. Even Columbia, an odds on favorite to kave Yale, went down, 10-7. Brown found Amherst a tough home but won, 20-14, only after a grueling engagement.

Manhattan cashed in a 6-0 win over St. Bonaventure while Dartmouth continued marching along over weak Hampden-Sydney, 34-6. Princeton, reputed to be one of the powerhouses in the east, trounced Williams, 26-0. Rutgers was a 20-0 winner over Wooster while Case came in with a 20-13 edge over Lehigh.

Francis Schmidt unveiled another Ohio State edition which gave indications of being one of his best pieces of work. State, pitted against Missouri, blazed across the gridiron with an impressive 19-0 victory. The margin of triumph does not tell the complete story of State's strength. Akron set back Illinois Wesleyan, 13-6, while Ohio university broke Western Reserve's string of 13 consecutive triumphs, 14-12, in another upset.

Southern Results
Georgetown bowled over Roanoke, 25-0, while Catholic U panicked Elon, 34-0. Duke university, Pitt's opponent this Saturday, won by a margin of 20-13, only after a grueling engagement.

Manhattan cashed in a 6-0 win over St. Bonaventure while Dartmouth continued marching along over weak Hampden-Sydney, 34-6. Princeton, reputed to be one of the powerhouses in the east, trounced Williams, 26-0. Rutgers was a 20-0 winner over Wooster while Case came in with a 20-13 edge over Lehigh.

Johnstown High Here On Saturday For Grid Battle

New Castle Will Risk Undefeated Record To Date, So Will Johnstown

CLASS AA TEAMS WILL FIGHT HARD

Two undefeated and untied scholastic football teams, members of Class AA conference, New Castle and Johnstown will tangle this coming Saturday afternoon at Taggart Stadium at 2:30 o'clock.

One or both teams in case of tie will be eliminated from further consideration in Class AA circles after Saturday. New Castle's two league victories to date have been Butler and Beaver Falls. Johnstown's two victories in the league have been Scottsdale and Bradock.

Last Friday night the Johnnies beat Glassport High a Class B school 14 to 0.

Resume Practice
After resting over Saturday and Sunday, Head Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh had the boys out on the field this afternoon for a two or three hour session. The locals came out of the Warren game in good physical shape. There may be a few changes in the starting lineup for Saturday. McKee and Morgan performed nicely in starting roles last Friday night and may get third again.

New Castle will be well on the road to the Class AA title if they can get by the "Johnnies" from the Flood City Saturday. There will just be Washington and Monessen left on the Class AA card.

Johnstown has a big team, they are fast and are a good passing team. New Castle will have to be very good to upset the team that was runners-up to McKeesport last year for the Class AA championship. They have practically a veteran team this year.

Each Yankee Gets Sum Of $5,614.26

(International News Service)
CINCINNATI, Oct. 9.—The victorious Yankees each receive $5,614.26, which is $168.50 short of the all-time high in a four-game series, for their labors in the fall classic each of the losing Reds gets $4,282.58.

The four-game series brought a total paid attendance of 183,849 and aggregate receipts of $745,329.09. The commissioner's share of the gate was $111,799.36 while the clubs' and leagues' cut amounted to $253,411.28.

The scene behind the scene: Paul Derringer was by far the most depressed soul in the stadium following his 2-1 defeat. He marched to the dressing room with head bowed down. As he passed Goodman, whose failure to snatch Keller's ninth inning fly ball aided in the defeat, Derringer said: "You know you've gotta catch fly balls in baseball." A second or so later, McKeechle had to separate the pair. The skipper then showed away the reporters and quelled the temporary outbreak.

Left field jinx to Reds: Left field was the downfall of the Reds in the stadium. The most important plays centered in that sector and it seemed Wally Berger, in his worst slump, couldn't do a thing to help his club. His throw to second, while Gordon was creeping third, was a costly mis-throw. Fletcher who signaled Gordon home, tying the count. Several of the smashes in left field could have been pocketed by a fast fielder, say a fellow like Vince DiMaggio, who was on the ineligible list.

I was somewhat disappointed in the Yankees. I expected to see a block of lousy walkups to all sections of the field. Instead, I saw the Yanks get 15 hits in two games, half of the safeties being those timid bingles. Reminded about his two infield singles, DiMaggio remarked: "Don't mention those hits. I'm ashamed to even think of them. Instead of seeing the greatest hitting aggressor, I saw the world's best defensive club."

World series niblets gathered at Yankee Stadium. Joseph Paul DiMaggio is the only player in the history of baseball who has played over a pennant winning aggregation and in four world series in his first four years in the big show. The last world series title dropped by the Yanks was against the Giants, the fourth game of the '37 classic, Hubbell trimmed Hadley, 7 to 3, in the Polo grounds. The last game lost by the Yanks at the stadium was the fifth clash of the '36 series with the Giants, Schumacher doing the trim in 10 hats, 5-4.

Series sidelights: The most noticed Yankee player, Russ, whose pitching held up the champs during the latter stages of the race. Lou Gehrig was easily the most popular personality in the dugout. Practically every notable, including Postmaster General Farley and "Babe" Ruth, stopped by for a hand shake. Johnny Vander Meer, the forgotten man of baseball, spent his leisure time taking a few movie shots from the dugout and got a big kick out of it.

Westminster Wins 19-0 Over California Teachers

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 9.—Concentrating their offensive drive in the second quarter, the Westminster Titans initiated their first home game of the 1939 season with a 19-0 victory over the California Teachers.

Lapowski scored two touchdowns and Brinkley, end, the third.

Thirteen first downs for the Titans to three for California tell a story of offensive drive by Westminster, as do the 326 yards picked up in scrimmage by the Blue and White to 105 for the Teachers. Not once during the game did the Teachers drive beyond the Westminster 30-yard line.

Westminster completed six out of nine passes while California was making good on five out of 13.

Lapowski's first touchdown came after a 40-yard Titan drive, headed by Valentic and Evanoff. Laposki scored on a plunge from the four-yard line. Again during the quarter, Laposki plunged from center for six yards and a touchdown after a Titan yardage-march for 80 yards in nine plays. The third Titan touchdown came when Washbaugh, in partially blocking a California pass, tipped the ball into the waiting hands of Brinkley, Titan end, who raced 35 yards in open territory for the last Titan touchdown.

Lapowski converted on only one out of three tries at placement.

In the first quarter, with two yards to go for a touchdown, the Titans lost the ball on downs, when Valentic's end-sweep failed to collect any yardage. A few minutes later, Westminster again had the ball on the California five-yard line on a fourth down, but lost the ball when Valentic's pass was incomplete.

Second Quarter
Opening the second quarter, Pfau went around end for 13 yards for the Titans to open a Westminster drive that rapidly forged to the California 17-yard line. Newton picked up three yards through tackle, Valentic passed to Newton for five yards, and the Titans got a break as California was penalized 15 yards for roughness, making it third down and a yard to go for a first down. Valentic picked up four yards and a first down. It was first down and the goal four yards away, as Newton skirted left end for two yards and Laposki ploughed through center for a touchdown, making it 7-0 for the Titans as Laposki's kick cleared the uprights.

Score by quarters:
Westminster 0 19 0 0—19

Grove City Tops Union Grid Team

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 9.—The Titans' second touchdown started from their own 21-yard line following a California punt. Laposki hit tackle for a yard, Valentic rounded end for 12, and Laposki hit center for 11, carrying the ball to the 48-yard marker. Valentic went around end for 20 yards and a moment later crossed his right leg for 11. With the Titans resting on the California 20-yard line, Laposki hit his guard for two, and Valentic's two passes brought Westminster to the Teachers four-yard line, from where Laposki again scored on a center thrust. Laposki's conversion was wide.

Take To Air
A few minutes later, the Teachers took to the air as Elliott, California half, tossed three consecutive passes. The last one of these, partially blocked by Washbaugh, fell into the waiting hands of Brinkley, Titan end, who dashed 35 yards across the touchdown stripe, with a California tackle just a split-second late. Laposki's placement kick was wide and the Titan scoring ended with the 19-0 score.

Throughout the third quarter, the playing was in midfield. In the final frame, a Titan third team, which replaced the Westminster last time, was rapidly pushing the ball towards a fourth touchdown when the game-end gun sounded.

The entire Westminster squad of 40 players saw action in the game, as well as almost the complete California group.

The 19-0 victory makes it one and one for Westminster, following their 7-0 loss at Bethany. Next Saturday, the Titans travel to Slippery Rock to meet the Rockets on the Slippery Rock field in a homecoming fray for the Teachers.

Stock Market
Trading DullOpening Prices Are Generally
Lower With Some Recovery LaterBy LESLIE GOULD
International News Service Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The stock market continued dull today, with narrow price changes and extremely dull trading making movements meaningless. Opening prices were generally lower, but some recovery was effected later.

U. S. Steel recovered an early slide of 1/4, while Bethlehem converted a loss of 1/4 into an equal gain. Chrysler was up a point for a while, with General Motors substituting a fractional gain for a minor decline. Fractional losses also were replaced with modest advances in a quiet copper section.

Mixed price trends ruled in the rubbers, farm implements, chemicals, aviation and mail orders. Rails were quiet and barely changed.

Bradley Records 50 Years
Of Service On Railroads

Carrying the watch that has served him faithfully for 32 years, H. A. Bradley, a yard conductor of Republic Steel company at Youngstown, will return to his New Castle home tonight with a half century of railroad service behind him.

Bradley lives at 347 Shaw street and this evening when he comes home he'll probably let his mind glide back again to the days of the "boomer," link-and-pin couplings, "pick handle brakes" and other railroad things.

Fifty years ago this afternoon he took a job with the old Pittsburgh and Western, now the Baltimore and Ohio. That was in 1889.

Works On Five Roads

During the intervening years he has worked on the Pennsy, C. H. &amp; D. Erie, New York Central, Montana Union and for Republic Steel, the company which today employs him in its Youngstown railroad yards.

Bradley's service exceeds only by one year the service record of an older brother, James L. Bradley, retired by the B. &amp; O. back in 1932. "That's been a loyal watch," the 50-year veteran commented on his timepiece today. "It's gone 32 years of the way with me now." Bradley amusingly recalled how the watch miraculously escaped ruin on three different occasions.

Bradley, for 35 years a member of the Order of Railway Conductors, is in the best of health and expects to continue working for some time.

GNCA Told Today Of Census Plans

Business, Manufacturing
Check Here Will Be Part Of Survey

U. S. WILL SEND
FORM SAMPLES SOON

The Greater New Castle Association today received its first announcement relative to the federal government's census of business and census of manufacturers, scheduled to be launched here January 2, 1940.

Executive Vice President Arthur H. Andrews received the word from the bureau of the census in Washington.

The survey of business concerns and manufacturing concerns of New Castle will be part of the most complete nation-wide survey of American business that has ever been made. This national survey will embrace approximately 1,700,000 retailers; 180,000 wholesalers; 750,000 service businesses; 50,000 hotels and tourists camps; 50,000 places of amusement; 200,000 construction contractors; 2,500 sales finance companies, and approximately 170,000 manufacturing concerns.

First Check Since 1935

This will be the first complete business census taken since 1935 and the information, as required by law, will include the volume of business for the year 1939, how much was done on credit, stocks on hand at the beginning and end of the year; accounts receivable; number of employees; total pay roll; extent of self-employment (proprietors, owners and unpaid members) and other information essential to measure the extent and volume of American business.

Executive Vice President Andrews was informed by the census bureau that he would shortly receive samples or forms to be used in the census of business. The sample schedules to be employed in the manufacturers' census will be available later.

Word from the bureau of census indicates that the United States is being divided into 100 areas for the census and that branch offices will be set up in convenient cities. The business and manufacturers census will require about five months and enumerators with schedules will call on all New Castle businesses beginning January 2.

It is announced that basic facts, as shown by the census, will be available by areas—states, counties, cities and towns—during 1940. The final statistics will include breakdowns for the 48 states; 3,072 counties and approximately 3,150 cities and towns of more than 2,500 population.

The census of population, the farm census, and the housing census will not start until April 1, 1940.

As in all census undertakings, the law protects those enumerated by keeping all answers confidential. They are available only to sworn census employees and are not available in broad statistical form to any other agency in or out of the government.

Allot County $9,549
For NYA Student-Aid

Lawrence county today was granted $9,549 to help its needy high school and college youth under the National Youth Administration's student-aid program for 1939-40, it was announced here. Pennsylvania, as a whole, received $1,948,183 for the work this year, a 19 per cent increase over its quota allowed for the past year.

NYA leaders here stressed that the student-aid movement is not a scholarship affair or gift system, but that all students must work for the funds they receive. Selection of students to participate in the program, they explained, is handled by school authorities and is based primarily upon need with scholarship an additional consideration.
